Wine.com: the best buys available in the US

Top wines to try from the world's largest online wine store

Founded in 1998 and headquartered in San Francisco, Wine.com bills itself as the world's largest wine store. It is the biggest online wine retailer in the US, offering 17,000 different labels from regions around the world.

Featuring a mix of both well-known and well-distributed wines to smaller boutique brands, the company works hard to deliver what consumers want.

Wine.com aims to make buying bottles online easy, fun and informative. It offers live-chat wine recommendations with sommeliers as well as virtual tastings with some of the industry's top wine personalities. Such savvy technology is also used by Total Wine.
